

Labels & Addresses Product Overview

Design and print labels and envelopes

Labels & Addresses (former Mail Factory) is a home and office tool for printing all sorts of labels and envelopes on your Mac. The program helps to design and print envelopes, postcards and diverse labels, such as address, shipping, file folder and barcode labels. Merge printing capability makes the program a great office tool for those who need to print multiple labels and envelopes in one go, using data from a print list.

If you also want to create and print either business cards, CD/DVD art, flyers or catalogs, you can consider buying Printfolio suite which includes Labels & Addresses and 4 other software applications.

Key Features

Advanced Merging

- Address merge printing makes it possible to automatically substitute addresses and postal barcodes for every label or envelope being printed.
- Automatically create and print numerous barcodes from an external data list.
- Counter field helps to numerate labels you print.

Flexible Mailing

- Import address information from Apple Address Book, MS Excel, MS Entourage, Now Contact, FileMaker, vCards or tab-delimited text files, or input them manually.
- The program automatically formats addresses according to the postal standards for over 50 countries.
- USPS POSTNET, Canada Post and Royal Mail barcodes can be printed for the US, Canada and UK addresses respectively.
- Smart Address Recognition feature allows you to paste an address from any text and then automatically formats it according to the applicable postal standards.
